

Codename: BDB is never shown the respect that he deserves. He is in the army and the hardest working member of the Elite Ghosts. BDB is well rounded in everything he does, while striving to be the best there can be. His parents are proud to call him their son; codename: EMS, his best friend realizes it too but every one else out there seems to take BDB for granted.

BDB has the abilities of a supervisor but will never get a promotion to it because of his age. He is maturely more stable than some adults, and is fellow Ghost members all think he is at least 21 years or older, but BDB is only 19. BDB has been an Elite Ghost since just after he turned 18, and was in boot camp since 16.

The Commander doesn't think BDB is ready to lead his own crew of Elite's. The Generals do however think he is ready and is not given enough in return for his actions. Of course BDB is close with the Generals so he finds ways to gain good information. Naturally BDB doubts his skills and is looking for options. So with that in mind, BDB is in the Marine boot camp.

The Marine boot camp can last anywhere from two years to six years. BDB is on his second year and looks to graduate in two more. He is an honest fellow and told the Commander and Generals what he is doing; it's up to them whether they try to keep him or let him go. Both of what BDB does in the Marines and in the Elite Ghosts are fun and he like's doing them.

Codename: MLS caught BDB's attention at the start of boot camp. They started together and were shy to each other. At the end of the first year of boot camp she finally approached BDB and they had a minor relationship which was not frowned upon. They had some trust troubles and things were not going the way BDB had wanted them to go.

Codename: DAC was the barrier that stopped BDB and MLS's relationship from advancing. BDB didn't like DAC and vice versa. DAC and MLS had grown up together and had a past relationship which DAC wanted back. MLS wants to give her life to BDB and BDB wants the same.

DAC is everywhere MLS goes so essentially MLS and BDB cannot be together until MLS is ready to leave her past life with DAC and start looking toward the future. The only problem is that if MLS does that DAC will quit the Marines and threaten suicide. The only way DAC will stay is if MLS stays out of a relationship with BDB

MLS says she cannot live without BDB so she would like to move on, but she cannot condemn death to another person so she keeps DAC happy and BDB in misery. Not only is BDB but she is too, she is only happy around him, but even still she will not leave DAC. BDB tries to not let his emotions for her get the best of him when she refuses to be with him, but it's all too easy to sway from the light path and lean towards evil.

Maybe love has blinded BDB and he needs to move on, like everyone is telling him, including her, in the Elite Ghosts, but he cannot help his feeling for her. If she had strong enough feeling for him and BDB is such a great guy, why would she wish him away? BDB doesn't understand, but then again men will never understand women.

BDB will get MLS, if it is meant to be, and not have DAC's life be over, unless that's what it comes to. Unless MLS chooses DAC then BDB will carry on, no matter how much BDB may want to fall and drop everything. His will is too strong and BDB has too much potential to be wasted all on the loss of one girl.

The future has much in store for BDB and his crew. As for the Elite Ghosts, even though they appreciate him, member's fluxuate as does everything else in the world. Whether BDB graduates boot camp and becomes an official Marine is yet to be determined.

BDB knows that life is not to be taken lightly. Every action has a re-action. Just make the most with the card that are dealt. The world is a big place with lots of people and things to do in it. BDB will live his life to the fullest!